

9 November 2017

Company Release to Address Market Rumours

As a general policy, Inca Minerals Limited (Inca or Company) does not respond to market speculation or rumour. However, where market speculation and rumours could repeatedly mislead shareholders, or could be material, then the Company has an obligation to respond and to address inaccuracies.

In this instance, Inca is responding to such rumours and advises that the Company's response and information pertaining to these rumours are provided on Inca's website.

Visit the Company's home page: <https://www.incaminerals.com.au/> and thereafter click on "Investors", then click on "Company Releases", and then select "Company Response to Market Rumour".

Shareholders are encouraged to contact the Company if they require clarification of matters related to this announcement. Where it is able to do so, the Company will be more than happy to assist.

* * * * *